

TO THE CLERGIE AND OTHERS OF THE DIOCES OF SARVM

Whereas the bearer hereof, CHRISTOPHER ANGELUS, a poore Grecian (whom wee have known in the Universitie of Oxford well and honestly to behave himselfe towards all men), being in great want and having not wherewith to supply the same, requested our Letters to stirre up the hearts of those that shall be ready to commiserate his case, these are therefore to commend him and his charitable suite to your Christian benevolence in sustayning of whom you shall doe very well : and so much the more, because he hath bin persecuted for his Religion, as by his Letters Testimoniall plainly appeareth. Thus far you well. From our Palace at. Sarum, 15 Die Augusti 1616.

Ro. Sarum.

The bearer hereof, CHRISTOPHER ANGELL, a Greeke, borne in Peloponnesus, having been persecuted by the Turks for his religion, as by his Letters Testimoniall appeares, and for that cause forced to leave his Country, came to Oxford about Whitsontide 1610, and finding reliefe, hath continued unto the day of the date hereof. During which time, his manner of life hath beene quiet, honest and studious ; and because he is weary and desirous to visit his friends in England, he hath requested these our Letters Testimoniall of his honest behaviour amongst us, which we have willingly granted unto him, and thereunto set our hands, this 20 of March, An. Dom. 1617.
